GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Burned to Death.

WICHITA, Ks., Jan. 23.—Advices from [illegible] Vale say that the building occupied by the Globe printing office, sleeping rooms in the upper floors and a furniture store below was burned night before last and that two men perished in the flames. Three others were sleeping in the building at the time but escaped by jumping from a window.

Jail Delivery.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Jan. 23.—All the prisoners in the county jail, sixteen in number, escaped this morning between 2 and 3 o'clock.

Republican Presidential Preference in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 23.—The Gazette having instructed its correspondent at each county seat of the state to interview fifty representative republicans on presidential preferences, summaries the results of nearly 3000 interviews as follows: Sherman, 1573; Blaine, 604; Grant, 398; the nominee, 100; Hayes, [illegible]; Washburne, 58; Garfield, 49; Edmunds, 55; Bristow, 78, and the rest scattering.

A Big Suit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The government has commenced suit against Harrison Johnson, formerly special agent of the treasury department, to recover $100,600, which it is set forth in the bill of complaint that he is indebted to the treasury for cotton sold in Mississippi in 1865.

The Kentucky Republican Convention.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 22.—A delegate convention of the republican party will be held here on April 14th.

Tilden's Income Tax Fraud.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Some months ago the government filed a bill of discovery in the case of the United States vs Samuel J. Tilden, propounding questions as to Tilden's income during the year enumerated in the complaint. Gov. Tilden, through his counsel, demurred to the bill and Judge Blatchford decided against him, ordering that he should answer the interrogatories. From this order Gov. Tilden appealed to the supreme court. Sixty days have now elapsed, and Gov. Tilden has not yet filed his answer, claiming that it is not necessary until the supreme court has decided the appeal. To-day District Attorney Woodford moved before Judge Blatchford in the U. S. circuit court for a further order to compel Tilden to answer the interrogatories at once, irrespective of appeal, which was opposed by counsel on the other side. The case has been set down for argument next week.

Attempt to Revive the Whipping Post in Kentucky.

The lower house of the Kentucky general assembly to-day passed a bill 58 to 53, reviving the whipping post. The same bill passed the house of the last assembly, but was defeated in the senate by the casting vote of Lieut. Gov. Underwood.

Senator Lamar's Health.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 21.—Senator Lamar is better now and able to be out of his room.

Speculations Relative to the Tammany Conference at Albany.

ALBANY, Jan. 23.—Kelly's conference is yet the topic here. Prominent men who are active in the regular democracy say that nothing that Kelly can do will make any difference with the national convention. They say that Kelly has lost much of his strength and will lose much more. They insist that the conference is simply a blind with which Kelly's bargains with the republicans may be covered. There is an impression among republicans that a bargain is being consummated now. There is much speculation to-night as to what it all means, but the best informed seem to think that the conference is a sincere step to force Seymour's nomination.

French Scientists Speak Favorably of Edison's Discovery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—A special from Paris gives the views of a number of French electricians on the Edison light.

Wilfred de Fonvielle, said that the onslaught of Count de Moncel on Edison created no attention whatever. De Moncel is not a member of the institute and can't be, never having made any scientific discovery or published any original work. He has merely written a number of reports on electricity. De Fonvielle said that Edison's work will be appreciated in future ages, when the names of his critics have been long buried in oblivion.

Jean Baptiste Dumas said that his impression upon first reading of Edison's discovery was one of incredulity, but he now sees no real impossibility in the thing. Crookes, inventor of the radiometer, said he did not believe that the horseshoe of Edison can last for any length of time.

M. Fontaine, president of the syndicate electricians, believes that Edison has made an important advance in the electric light.

The Kentucky Republican Convention.

RICHMOND, Jan. 23.—The republican delegate convention will be held May 16th.

Parnell at Toledo.

TOLEDO, Jan. 22.—Parnell arrived this afternoon, and an immense meeting was held to-night at the Wheeler opera house, the mayor presiding. Parnell spoke for nearly an hour on the condition of Irish tenants, their sufferings and needs. Dillon and several of the Catholic clergy made short speeches.

The Fusionists about to Desert.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 22.—The outlook at midnight was more hopeful than at any time during the later stages of the complications. The fusionist senators who are entitled to seats in the state house senate are reported on high authority to be on the verge of deserting the Union hall legislature.

A New Louisiana Senator.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 23.—R. R. Gibson was elected United States senator by the legislature.

THE NORTH CAROLINA EXODUS.

A Colored Man Smarting from Political Defeat, Describes North Carolina "as a Negro's Paradise," and Abuses the Republicans.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The senate committee on exodus to-day continued the examination of O. S. B. Wall of Washington (colored), president of the Emigration Aid Society, and also took testimony from James E. O'Hara, a prominent colored republican of Halifax county, N. C. Wall, under cross examination by Vance as to the basis for his assertion that North Carolina was "a God forsaken country with a soil that would not sprout black-eyed peas," admitted that he had very little personal knowledge of the soil of North Carolina, and personally knew nothing about the counties from which the present exodus has started. He believed that the exodus from the south was spontaneous, and that it would continue until the colored people received better treatment there and that in every probability there would be a return drift southward, for the negro loved the home of his parents and would not remove without some strong incentive. In response to a series of questions by Senator Voorhees, witness stated that information received by him as president of the society to the effect that employment for North Carolina colored people could readily be found in Indiana was derived from circulars and a letter of J. H. Walker, local agent, at Terre Haute and several other persons living in that state whose names he could not remember, but whose letters he would hereafter furnish to the committee, and from Perry and Williams, North Carolina agents of the emigrants. What personal knowledge the latter had in regard to the matter at issue he did not know.

O'Hara, (colored), the other witness, testified that he held an office in Halifax county for a number of years as chairman of the board of county commissioners and chairman of the board of education and county examiner. He has also been a member of the North Carolina legislature and of the constitutional convention, was one of the presidential electors on the republican ticket in 1872 and is now contesting a seat in the national house of representatives. He gave a very favorable account of the condition and treatment of colored people in North Carolina [illegible] and testified that although there was at a [illegible] time [illegible] North Carolina [illegible] never has been [illegible] present [illegible] North Carolina. Nothing was more common on election days than to see a white man and a colored man [illegible] coming to town in the same buggy and voting different tickets. White mechanics in North Carolina had no prejudice against working with colored mechanics and no discrimination was made against colored people in the courts or on juries.

Senator Windom remarked that at this point that he had been looking for a negro paradise and now he had found it in North Carolina.

The witness, in response to interrogatories as to the cause of the exodus from his state said it was the result of efforts of agitators going about the country and not a spontaneous migration. The less industrious class of colored men, what might be termed the floating population, were duped by representations that they would get $1 50 per day in Indiana and a new suit of clothes together with government aid of some sort as they passed through Washington and they were similarly deceived by false representations contained in circulars purporting to be issued by railroad companies in Kansas and elsewhere. In the course of his testimony he expressed the opinion that the intelligent negro of the south has more to fear from white republicans than from democrats. He explained that on the ground that white republicans want all the offices themselves and if colored men claim a division they combine against the negro. In this way he said he had been counted out from the election as congressman because he had opposed a white republican's candidacy for the nomination as sheriff. Adjourned.

OUTRAGEOUS VILLAINY.

Consul Mosby Writes to the State Department from Hongkong, Exposing the Shameful and Criminal Neglect of his Predecessor.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Several of Consul Mosby's letters to the state department show that Consul Bailey's administration of the Hongkong consulate from 1876 to the latter part of 1878, the inspection of Chinese emigrants to the United States under the act of congress requiring consular certificates of their voluntary emigration, was a disgrace. The farce was merely a means of collecting fees which Bailey almost wholly pocketed. Mosby in one letter writes:

The following is a brief history of the ceremony of examination. On the day before the vessel was to leave with Chinese emigrants the United States consul was informed that at a certain hour the passengers would be ready on board for examination. At the appointed time Peter Smith, an illiterate keeper of a sailors' boarding house, appeared with the consular seal. The passengers came on deck and passed in review before him, each being asked if he was a voluntary emigrant. If he said that he was, his ticket was stamped with the consular seal. It would take on an average about one hour to complete the investigation. This was the whole proceeding.

Mosby has also reported that the act prohibiting the importation of Chinese lewd women, was simply made a cover for extortion, it being a general understanding that any woman could procure a consular certificate by paying to the consul a premium of $10 or $15. A letter received by Mosby from the San Francisco collector of customs dated August 18, 1879, congratulated him on his success in preventing the shipment of lewd women to the United States, thus demonstrating that previous failures to enforce the law, were attributable to a want of proper vigilance and good faith. The general stated in his report of September 20th of the results of his investigations under orders of the state department, writes as follows:

Upon the general question as to the voluntary character of Chinese emigration, I find it difficult to form a satisfactory judgment among foreigners in China. The prevalent belief is that so far as the Pacific states of the United States are concerned this emigration is mainly promoted by the six Chinese companies or guilds of San Francisco and that emigrants after arrival remain in the power of these companies and are in fact controlled by them. I find this belief so strong and so general even among persons who differ as regards the expediency of the emigration that I must declare it worthy of serious consideration, but at the same time I have been unable to obtain any direct or clear evidence to support it. This is possibly owing to the secrecy which characterizes all such combinations among the Chinese and to great power and influence they everywhere possess. As long as the emigrants continue to declare throughout in the several searching examinations to which they are subject, not only to their willingness to go but that they go freely and voluntarily it may be impossible to establish any unlawful arrangement between them and the said companies.

Disaster at Senator-elect Garfield's House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—General Garfield was serenaded by the Ohio delegation to-night. The platform in front of his house broke down, spraining his ankle but injuring none of the remaining 30 people who were seated upon it. Speeches were made by the senator-elect and others.

Woman Suffragists before a Senate Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Mrs. Wallace of Indiana, Lucinda B. Chandler of Pennsylvania, Susan B. Anthony and other delegates to the Woman's Suffrage Association, made arguments to-day before the senate committee in favor of a 16th amendment to the constitution to enfranchise women.

A Matter for Miners.

A bill recently passed by congress to authorize affidavits in support of applications for mineral patents to be made by the agents of non resident applicants, has been threatened with a presidential veto on account of the opposition of the interior department to its retroactive section, but Senator Teller and Representatives Belford and Page have procured a reference of the matter to the attorney general and have convinced him that the bill should be approved. It will therefore receive the president's signature.

Hostility toward Peaceable Indians.

Information has been received at the department of the interior that there is a movement on foot to organize a band for the purpose of raiding the bands of Indians in the Indian territory. The parties engaged in the work have their headquarters at Wichita, Kansas. The subject was discussed at a meeting of the cabinet to-day and it was decided to issue instructions to the government officials in that section of the country to forward all information procurable regarding the matter. The war department will distribute troops so as to suppress and check such movement as soon as it is attempted.

WEST INDIES

The ladies of the visiting party witnessed the reception from an adjoining saloon, ladies being permitted to attend such official receptions.

Distribution of Relief Funds in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Jan. 23.—At a meeting of the Mansion House committee of Irish relief yesterday, Bishop Duggan of the diocese of Clonfert said that the distress in his diocese was pressing and aggravated, and instant relief was required. He deprecated the [illegible] tions of the board of works under which the people could obtain loans. The committee made grants for relief amounting to £1,680, including £100 to the central committee of County Donegal. It was estimated that £20,000 each would be granted to five western counties to central committees comprising Protestant and Catholic bishops, members of parliament and all clergy [illegible].

The Prosecution of Davitt and Brennan.

Davitt and Brennan have been served with writs calling upon them to appear before the court of the queen's bench on or before Monday next and stating that if they fail the writs will be issued for their arrest. This is in consequence of Davitt and Brennan not having yet entered their appearance before the queen's bench.

A Letter from Gladstone.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—A dispatch from Rome says the newspapers publish a letter from Gladstone to Professor Sbarbaro of the Neapolitan peace congress avowing his determination to advocate a general disarmament from his place in parliament.

The Pope Interviewed—He Approves of McCloskey's Conduct.

ROME, Jan. 23.—A correspondent of the New York Herald had an interview on Wednesday with the pope, and learned that there was no truth in the Pall Mall Gazette's report that his holiness was angry with Cardinal McCloskey on account of his reception of Parnell. His holiness expressed the highest opinion of McCloskey and takes no interest in the Parnell demonstration, it being political and not religious. His holiness places full trust in the cardinal's judgment. It was known at the vatican that McCloskey had refused to act on the Irish committee proposed by the Herald.

Sale of the N. Y. Central Road.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The sale effected by the syndicate of the New York Central is an entire success. Various papers attack the sale as an attempt to milk the English market. A communication to the Times declares that the syndicate's main object is to make a profit of over $3,000,000 above the price paid to Vanderbilt.

The Newcastle Horror.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Over 50 bodies have been taken from the Lycett colliery at Newcastle under the Tyne where the explosion occurred yesterday. Of 12 persons got out alive five have died and others were dying. A fire in the pit since the disaster has hindered the efforts of explorers and precludes all hope of more victims being rescued alive. A latest report places the total number of deaths at 70. Another explosion is feared.

Distress in the South.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 22.—Minister Layard has telegraphed Lord Salisbury that help is urgently needed in Mosul where people have been obliged to sell their children to procure food. Montenegrins are withdrawing from Gazinge but they state that they intend to return in the spring with largely increased demands.

Bismarck and the Pope.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—In consequence of Bismarck having energetically contradicted the insinuations of the Aurora cited as an organ of the vatican, regarding negotiations between Germany and the vatican, the latter has declared that the statements of the Aurora were not inspired by the pope.

It is rumored in parliamentary circles that Prussia will take no further direct steps to reopen negotiations with the vatican but that Von Puttkammer, minister of ecclesiastical affairs, will be commissioned to prepare amendments to the May laws, abolishing clauses which have been found unjust and impracticable. The ultramontanes do not like this proposal and demand the total repeal of the Falk laws. The liberals are uneasy and fear too large concessions to the church.

The German Army Reform.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—A new army bill will be submitted by the reichstag at the next session. It is thought that it is certain to pass without material modification. It fixes the strength of the army for seven years.

The new army bill provides that the strength of the army on a peace footing from April, 1881 to March, 1888 shall be one per cent of the population, thereby raising the present peace force from 401,000 to 427,250. The preamble to the bill justifies the increase by reference to comprehensive army reforms introduced by neighboring states which leave the German army numerically in the rear even after taking into consideration the newly proposed army increase in its infantry and artillery branches.

THE INGALLS INVESTIGATION.

Testimony before the Committee on Privileges.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The senate committee on privileges and elections resumed consideration of the Ingalls case to-day.

J. V. Admire testified in substance that he was unfriendly to Ingalls at the commencement of the senatorial contest, but that afterwards in view of party interests he gave him a lukewarm support. Admire also testified that he told Raybourl, a member of the Kansas legislature, that he (Raybourl) could get money for his vote for senator, but on cross examination denied any personal knowledge of the payment of any moneys by Ingalls or any of his friends for corrupt purposes.

E. L. Smith, Western Union manager at Topeka, produced a messenger's receipt book which had been called for by memorialists and also produced a single telegram which counsel for memorialists claimed was missing from a package of telegrams previously furnished by the telegraph company.

J. J. Barker testified that he was at Topeka during the senatorial contest, that he was a democrat and in an interview with Senator Ingalls the senator told him that he wanted some democratic votes and wanted him (Barker) to talk to five democratic members whose names were mentioned, and that he saw these members and told them that money was being [illegible]. The Fusionists' Plan to Burn the Houses of Prominent Republicans—The Outrageous Scheme Discovered and Foiled.

TROOPS HASTENING BY SPECIAL TRAIN TO AUGUSTA

The Republicans Determined to Hold the State House—The Fusionists' Resources of Money and Troops.

NEWS TO [illegible] O'CLOCK THIS MORNING

General Items.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 23.—[illegible]

Proceedings of the Fusion House.

The fusionists [illegible] met at Union Hall. But part of the members were present. [illegible] an order [illegible] secretary of state to [illegible] notify [illegible] municipal officers of towns and plantations that a new valuation of the state is to be made by the legislature, that said officers may appear and be heard and that notice with the broad seal of the state affixed is forwarded to the towns of Ellsworth and Brunswick that their representatives have withdrawn themselves from this house.

In the senate the president announced the standing committees. There was much fault found because they had been refused the privilege to take stationery from the state house.

Both branches adjourned until [illegible] o'clock when the committee on questions to the supreme court will report.

In the house the committee on judiciary was ordered to inquire as to the amendment of the constitution so that certificates of election of representatives shall issue direct from municipal officers. The judiciary committee has reported a resolution providing for an amendment to the constitution that the governor be elected by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The rules were suspended and it passed to be engrossed. The senate concurred.

A member said that he was tired of holding out in a cause in which there was no prospect of success and that he thought it would be much better if such as could [illegible] would join the state house legislature. It did not look well for the state to have two governments and surely congress can give us no relief.

Hill said that they now have two decisions and he was for abiding by them for a week. It was a question of where to go but he had resolved to go into the other body so that his people might be represented in the making of the new valuation.

Stiles had no confidence in the judges. He was willing that the questions should be submitted on condition that the judges answer them as put and not go out of their way to get something else in.

After further discussion it was voted to lay the questions on the table until Monday.

A Later Report.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 23.—At the afternoon session of the fusion legislature the report of the committee on questions to be submitted to the court was read. Ingalls said: "We know now that the court will not recognize any laws that we may make, but under our present condition we should submit these questions and then, like good law abiding citizens submit to the decision." The questions sent to the court by the other body were theoretical but these cover the facts at issue.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 23.—To-night the whole situation has since 9 minutes past 11 o'clock entirely changed. By to-morrow morning three companies of infantry, the Capitol Guards of Augusta, the Auburn light infantry and the Gardiner company and the Androscoggin light infantry will garrison the state house.

At 10 minutes past 11 Gov. Davis and Inspector General Tilden arrived at the adjutant general's office. In three minutes Gov. Davis authorized this startling, well justified military movement. It was a timely act. The military authorities were out of patience with the politicians who have for several days had dominant influence at the state house. This has been the most sensational of the nights since the complication but rumors of stirring events to come were not baseless. The fusionists' militia are and have been drilling down town and it has been ascertained to be established in [illegible] of the military authorities that a concentrated attack upon the state house was likely to occur at any moment.

A plot to burn the residences of leading Augusta republicans was discovered to-night. Triangular bits of paper marked the doomed residences. They were tacked on after dark and were perceived by the vigilant police. Had the governor not given his order for calling out the troops to-night the military men at the state house were ready to abandon their watch, which was likely to result in an injurious ending. The orders for militia were given out by Gen. Chamberlain's assistant adjutant general for the reason that a part of the militia would not, or it was feared would not, obey Gov. Davis' orders. The Capitol Guards garrison the state house to-night and partly relieve the worn out police who have been without sleep for many hours. A special train is ordered to-night from Lewiston. Probably the most aggressive movement of the state government will be to disperse the fusionist legislature and to arrest every fusionist official who persists in playing at government.

Those who may imagine the fusionists inactive and have abandoned their cause are laboring under a mistake. While the government is not alarmed they fully grasp the situation and will make the state house perfectly impregnable. The first military company that ever entered the state house marched in at midnight to-night—the Capitol Guards. Messrs. Pillsbury, Blood, Channing and others are known to be enrolling men in every county in the state. Men are enrolled in the country towns ready for J. L. Smith's call. Capt. Black of Augusta is drilling men nightly.

Mayor Nash addressed the following note to Gov. Davis to-night:

In view of the threatening attitude of persons hostile to the present government of the state I feel constrained to say to your excellency that I fear my capitol police force will be insufficient to protect the public property at the capitol or even hold possession of the building itself against such force as the public enemies seem willing to bring against it.
CHAS. E. NASH.

There are suspicious circumstances which lead to alarm, viz: Crowds of men collecting at various points, the continuance of organization among the fusionists, raising of money to sustain them in their action, the activity of Major J. L. Smith, the holding out of Sawyer who claims to be secretary of state, drilling of armed men and incendiary talk of the Greenback Labor Chronicle of Auburn that the state house must be taken though it costs thousands of lives.

From consultation with military authorities Gov. Davis has become fully convinced of the seriousness of the situation and that the position of Mayor Nash is perfectly sound. He therefore ordered to the state house the Capitol Guards and another company of light infantry at 1 o'clock this morning.

Troops from Auburn to go to Augusta by Special Train.

AUBURN, Jan. 24—1 A. M.—The light infantry will leave that place for the capital at 7 o'clock this morning and other military forces will be brought here if necessary. Information of the operations of the fusionists comes from reliable men in each county. The design is to take prompt action. Gov. Davis will avert all trouble. Men are known to be ready at the call of Smith from Lincoln and Somerset counties, who are to take sleighs across the country.

Arrival at Augusta of the Richards Light Infantry.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 24—[illegible] A. M.—The Richards light infantry of Gardiner has just arrived (2 A. M.) and marched into the state house. A gatling gun will be here in the morning. All armories in the state are under guard. The republicans are determined to hold possession of the state house.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Examination on the opposition of John H. Burke to allow allowance of account filed by the executors of the O'Brien estate was reopened to-day for the purpose of allowing the introduction of an instrument signed by Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. McDonough, residuary legatees named in the will, approving the sale of stocks to James C. Flood on July 17, 1878, amounting to $445,000. It was dated July 20, 1878 and acknowledged before a notary public January 23, 1880 and a duplicate of the original, which is lost, was then submitted for decision of referee without argument.

Rapid Work on the Southern Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Over 400 men have been sent by the Southern Pacific railroad company from this city to Arizona to work on the railroad. Its extension through the territory has been resumed and it is expected will be pushed forward at the rate of one mile per day.

Marine Disasters and Loss of Life.

Four wrecks were attended by loss of life, the total number of persons drowned being 44. The other fatalities recorded are a loss of three lives by the breaking of a capstan and the drowning of 12 men by falling into the sea from a yardarm.

BLOCKADED NEHALEM.

A number of citizens of Nehalem valley, Columbia county, have addressed the following petition to Gov. Thayer:

VERMONIA, Jan. 17, 1880.

To His Excellency, W. W. Thayer, Governor of Oregon: The petition of the undersigned citizens desiring to call your attention to certain facts would respectfully represent: During the second week of January we were visited by a heavy storm of snow and wind which has completely blockaded our roads with fallen timber, so that it is impossible for us to get out from the valley. We have no mills or stores here and have to get all our flour and groceries in Washington county or at St. Helens. Heretofore we could get out at almost any time of the winter after our supplies, and as a result a majority of the people have but a small supply of food in store. There are over one hundred and fifty men, women and children in the valley and there are now several families entirely out of provisions and there is not enough in the entire valley to feed the residents for four weeks. We have held a meeting to see what we could do and came to the following agreement: That we would appoint men to select the shortest and best route to cut a trail either into the road that runs north from Greenville via Manning's mill or from Vermonia postoffice to the school house, and thence east to St. Helens. Truthful men have been over the road we have from Cornelius, via Quick's mill, to this valley and they say that thirty men would not be able to put the road in a passable condition in a month. We are in as rich a valley as any in Oregon, but it has been only five years since the first settlers came here and we have had to clear our land, and the making of the road took over three years and now it is completely filled with the fallen trees. For the sake of humanity if you can legally give us aid from the state fund we would gladly accept it. If you can help us we will let you know which route we will open as soon as the viewers get back, which will perhaps be in a week. If you can possibly render us any assistance please address O. Cherington, Vermonia postoffice, Columbia county, Oregon and oblige.

The governor answers that the state can do nothing for the relief of the petitioners, as such relief could not be afforded under any appropriation that has been made, but he suggests that aid might be obtained through solicitation of subscriptions.

GLACIERS IN ALASKA.

An Enthusiastic Report of John Muir's Lecture at Vancouver.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

We had quite a treat in a lecture from John Muir. We have a lecture association confining itself usually to a [illegible] at the Oak Grove Theater. The building is called a theater. It is however used for several purposes of public entertainment for the benefit of those [illegible] within reserve limits.

John Muir spent a portion of the day in making sketches and diagrams which were skillfully executed in chalk on the blackboard, and being numbered answered as briefs. The lecture on glaciers and glacial action was of exceeding interest, holding the attention of the audience without interruption for upwards of two hours. Not the least part of it springs from the lecturer himself. He is a young man of great modesty, appearing like one who, as he says, has taken a walk among the mountains for fifteen years. Healthful in complexion, simple yet careful in expression, of medium size and build—one would say "not remarkable" except when his subject has so much absorbed him as to make him for a moment forget his surroundings, then the animation and ready action of Agassiz appears and you are wondering at his young face and his wonderful powers of generalization and condensation, still never excluding some simple similes that make a strong lodgment in your memory. To-day I am enthused by the subject which I have not been able to sleep off. Let me give you a brief.

First—A well drawn picture shows the constant circulation of water under its different forms from ice to vapor caused by the sun's action. It is an irregular wheel having a scooped mountain surface touching the circumference, whitened with ice and snow below, while in the air the direction of winds and clouds is shown by tangential arrows. In one minute by this diagram and two sentences Mr. Muir has given you an entire chapter.

Second—What is a glacier? It is a river of ice flowing toward the sea. Three specimen pictures are on the board. (a) This one he calls the great ice mantle or sheet, found in Alaska near Mt. St. Elias. It has at the point of observation a breadth of twenty miles and extends to a background of white points, hundreds of them shaped like saw teeth, of irregular height, rising huge and conical shapen from a bed of snow. (b) The next figure affords a majestic flood of ice flowing through a canyon of high banks, three miles broad and over thirty miles long,—a grand white river, always in motion, a little swifter in the center, icebergs breaking at the mouth. Mr. Muir watched its lively action, delighted in its beauty by day and heard a roar at night exceeding the voice of many thunder storms combined. The bergs break off about once in three minutes, with a sound heard several miles. This is near Fairweather mountain, Alaska. (c) Davidson's glacier ends with a fan-shaped mouth, gradually working off into the sea without dislodging bergs. This one at its widest point not far from the mouth must be nearly ten miles in breadth. The canyon through which it flows broadens and narrows like the Columbia. (d) The next drawing exhibits the ancient Tuolumne glacier, showing the same onward flow, with a general descent, but that ridges and divides of considerable hight do not arrest its resistless current; one ridge for example, is 500 feet above the bed.

Third—Icebergs—He now gives us several drawings of icebergs curious in form, standing from forty to fifty feet above water and having invariably from six to seven times as many below. One berg near Cape Vanderpute, Alaska has drifted into a fixed position and has the perfect form of a cross; it appears as if shaped by a crosscut saw out of an immense chunk of ice.

Fourth—Next in order on the blackboard were five illustrations of different Yosemites. We may call them fifth order, fourth order, third and second order. Mr. Muir carefully begins with two small converging canyons where glaciers were formed from avalanches. They come together and change direction like the resultant of two forces. This resultant in size and in direction shows that they prepare their own trend. Again a new flow comes in and changes the main stream. Soon several combined form the main excavation of such enormous depth and breadth as to attract the attention of the world. The other Yosemites, more recently discovered, all demonstrate the same great fact of result and action.

Fifth—Avalanches are disposed of in three minutes. (a) Species—after storms on mountains—mealy snow tumbling down. (b) Species—the annual catastrophe where snow better settled rushes after action of warmth and slides toward the valleys. (c) Species—The century avalanche. This may or may not be every hundred years—terrific in its consequences, carrying away trees over one hundred years growth, etc. Mr. Muir once was carried off in the first species, lying down and stretching out his arms to prevent himself from being completely submerged and riding down a mountain at a rate swifter than a locomotive. He believes this much closer allied to pure spiritual movement than that gained with the gross surroundings and dusty combats of the steam engine.

Sixth—Now comes the influence of glaciers on the landscape. The peaks, the rounded hills and the canyons. He shows how they are produced, as a scientific reason for the north side steep and curved somewhat concave while the south flank is convex. This is due to influence of shade upon snow and ice. The rounded form of hills is in the direction of the flow of the glacier while the angular side or end presents a fractured appearance often precipitous. The glacier presses the round side from its direction while it naturally breaks off any cleavage nearer its terminus; in fact, immense hills composed of rock assume under dominant action invariably the shape of greatest strength.

Seventh—Mr. Muir now makes the wonderful statement of the primary uniformity of surface of the higher ridges and shows how glaciers begin, how rocks of different resisting power are differently worn down—how channels growing into larger ones and the resulting action giving us peaks and shapes which must result from the universal covering of ice and snow, and the centuries of downward flow.

Eighth—He comes to illustrate structure which applies to all mountains which have been subject to glacial action, of course, neglecting the subject of volcanoes. (a) Gives us hundreds of parallelopipedons formed by vertical and horizontal planes; this is vertical and horizontal cleavage. (b) Gives examples of diagonal cleavage showing sharp pointed and diamond shaped results. (c) Is the dome shaped, always below the others, giving curved or rounded surfaces and curved cleavage. The glacial action works upon mountains thus formed and brings out an infinite variety which fills the mind with the sense of beauty and the emotion of grandeur.

Ninth—Nothing in existence more clearly shows the plan of the Almighty than these complete and constantly appearing structures arranged with evident design, and this was done countless ages ago.

Tenth—The lecturer's whole face lighted up as he talked of the youth of the world, the present morning of creation, the beginning of the work of the Infinite [illegible] hitherto and yet just commences. [illegible] where he makes the [illegible] the winds, the avalanches [illegible] simple instruments [illegible] power producing only [illegible] changes [illegible]. He [illegible] Switzerland [illegible] where Agassiz [illegible] Alaska Switzerland [illegible] Alaska nearly ten thousand [illegible] reaches the sea [illegible] icebergs in Alaska twenty or [illegible] push out the [illegible] action. The [illegible] Alaska probably varies from 30 to [illegible] miles, the breadth [illegible] of these ice [illegible] three to six miles at the mouth and [illegible] afford a larger breadth at the [illegible] points. For example at the [illegible] the main [illegible] many a broad [illegible] has been [illegible] to the ocean by the wonderful operation of its glacial force.

I am conscious of having given but a faint picture of the lecture of last night. It would require the audience, the large black boards covered with pictures and the interesting speaker with his pointer in hand and his slightly peculiar enunciation to afford any reasonable degree of completeness.

Faithfully yours, O. O. HOWARD

Thirteenth Annual Report of the Secretary for the Year Ending Dec., 1879.

In presenting this, the thirteenth annual report of our society, to its members and friends we desire to express the sincere gratitude of our hearts to our Heavenly Father, upon whose bounty we are continually dependent, for the favor that as a society we have enjoyed the past year.

The year that has just closed has crowned our Home with the rich blessings of health and prosperity. This home for the orphan and the friendless children of our state was made and prepared by benevolent hearts and charitable hands, and for thirteen years it has been supported and kept up mainly by the same means. In our generous work of caring for the destitute and friendless wards of the state the state has kindly granted us liberal donations in 1872, 1874 and in 1878, for which the society is truly thankful.

The Home has been under the care and management of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson for over six years, to the entire satisfaction of the board of managers, and we can truly say that they have been efficient and faithful to their trust. To the little ones under their care they have been father and mother in the highest relation of kindness and true watchful care.

The society has purchased a lot of land adjoining and made some much needed improvements the past year, which have added materially to the convenience and value of the Home property. The disbursements of the year have been as follows:

Household expenses and salary of matron	$1131 33
Improvements and repairs at Home	400 50
Total	$1531 83

The society cannot refrain from expressing their grateful thanks to the legislature of 1878 for their timely and much needed assistance and also to any and all persons who have kindly assisted us in any way during the past year. Under all these favorable auspices the society is thankful to say that they are prepared to receive orphans and friendless children upon the conditions of their rules, from any part of the state, and can safely promise them all needed kindness and attention. All letters of inquiry will be promptly answered by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Dr. Chase. The public are respectfully invited by the board to visit the home at any time. It is earnestly hoped that the generous and benevolent people of the state of Oregon will not cease to take a deep and abiding interest in their institution, for though located in Salem, it belongs to the people of Oregon, and is a legacy to their generosity and benevolence.

The few ladies of Salem and elsewhere, upon whom has fallen the burden of care and responsibility in the past, as a board of managers, cannot make the institution such a monument of success, and of honor to the state, without the cheerful and hearty co-operation of others. We therefore earnestly solicit the friendly aid of all those who are interested in the welfare of the unfortunate orphans and friendless of our state.

The number of children who has been under our care during the year is 12.

All the children of sufficient age have attended the public schools of Salem during the year and have made the usual advancement in their studies.

Having given this brief and imperfect statement of our work during the past year, reference is respectfully made to the treasurer's report for a full account of our receipts and disbursements for the year 1879.

Respectfully submitted,
Mrs. S. C. ADAMS, Sec'y

Supreme court met at 9:30 o'clock A. M., full bench being present.

F. R. Hill, plaintiff, app., vs. J. D. Cooper, resp.; appeal from Douglas county. The judgment of the lower court affirmed. Opinion by Boise, J.

SYLLABUS.

Where one holds the possession of land as trustee of another, and while so holding the possession receives to his own use the rents and profits that belong to his cestuique trust, the cestuique trust must resort to a suit in equity to recover such rents and profits of the trustee.

When a cestuique trust prosecutes a suit in equity to compel his trustee to convey a legal title to him, he may in such suit recover of the trustee the rents and profits which the trustee has received to the use of the cestuique trust while the trustee was in possession of the land.

A judgment in ejectment is conclusive as to the legal title and right of possession as between the parties and cannot be collaterally impeached.

M. Rosendorff and E. Hirschberg, parties under the firm name of Rosendorff & Hirschberg, apps., vs. Joseph A. Baker, resp.; appeal from Marion county. Argued and submitted.

H. H. Hayden, app., vs. Samuel Long, resp.; appeal from Polk county. Motion to dismiss appeal overruled and motion to perfect appeal allowed.

The state of Oregon, resp., vs. James McCormick, appeal from Douglas county. Ordered that this case be filed and placed on the docket as per agreement of counsel.

W. R. Findley, resp., vs. H. Taylor Hill and [illegible] Stafford; [illegible] with H. Taylor Hill app. cause on trial.

REGULATION OF RAILWAYS.

B. F. [illegible] railroad commissioner of California has addressed to the legislature his report for the past two years. The document furnishes statistics of transportation and discusses at great length the questions of discrimination competition and regulation. We find that on the Central Pacific road the highest rate for fare is ten cents a mile, and the lowest [illegible] cents for single fare and four mills for commutation rates. For all passengers carried the average is 2 95 cents a mile. The highest freight rate is fifteen cents a ton per mile, and the lowest is .66 cents. For local freight the average rate is 2 268 cents, and for other freight 1 660 cents a ton per mile. It is shown that the amount paid per capita for railroad transportation by the people of the states and territories served by the Central Pacific's lines, is $22 73 per annum, while in New York the amount paid for railroad transportation give a per capita of $18 03, and in Massachusetts a per capita of $18 18.

The report presents certain axiomatic conditions as to the operation of railways. One of these, which is a condition precedent to having railroads and other transportation facilities, is that "the public who use them shall maintain them." It is argued further that the railroad system of California is grand in its conception, and has anticipated by many years the industrial development of the state. As a consequence of this, "higher rates must necessarily prevail for local freight and passage service than are charged in densely populated communities." This reasoning applies with even greater force in Oregon than in California. In our state railroads have never yet been able to earn a fair income on the actual investment, and perhaps may not for some time to come.

But the popular complaint against railway discrimination is not answered by this report in a way that will silence reasonable objection. It is argued that to carry between competition points at less mileage rates than between intermediate points where no competition exists, is not an act of injustice, and, by implication that it is proper to charge as much for short distances as for long ones, where absence of competition makes it practicable to do so. This is a practice liable to great abuse. The Central Pacific should not, for instance, charge as much from Ogden to Reno as it charges from Ogden to San Francisco. In the case of cheaper products, however, which will bear only a low rate of transportation, there is no real injustice in carrying at as low a rate for a longer as a shorter distance; as for example, when wheat is carried from Roseburg to Portland at the same rate as from Eugene City to Portland. It will bear only a certain rate, and if it cannot be shipped within that limit it cannot be shipped at all. If the road is carrying from Eugene City at as low a rate as it can reasonably afford, there is no real ground for complaint that the rate for a longer distance is made no higher—particularly when it is known that the whole business still fails to yield any adequate profit on the money employed in it.

An argument is offered in the report against attempts to establish inflexible rates by legislation. The power of the state to regulate is, indeed, indisputable; but it is claimed, and doubtless with truth, that every endeavor to establish rates by rigid rules of legislation has proved detrimental both to the railways and the public. It is argued, however, that extortion on the part of railways should be made known and punished; that the operating results of roads should be made public by government authority, and unjust discrimination and unreasonable charges prohibited. The commissioner says: "Let the government provide the method for enforcing on carriers the common law duty, and let all transportation companies be subject to it; let the burden of proof of reasonableness of rates be thrown upon the companies; let the state invoke the enforcement of remedies at common law when private parties might be deterred from seeking legal remedy. If unreasonableness is shown, let the carrier pay the cost of the proceeding as well as the fine; if the carrier proves reasonableness, let the state pay the costs. Such rules will be just to both carrier and shipper. Judicial investigation alone can determine as to the justice or injustice of transportation charges." As matter of fact it is undeniable that the only correct standard for determining rates is that founded on economics—cost of the carrier and value to the shipper of the service rendered. And experience in many states has proven that as a rule it is not possible to adjust these quantities by inflexible rates established by legislation. In adopting their new constitution a majority of the people of California thought they had secured an easy way of settling the question. But now when they actually come to deal with it through the methods of legislation they see where the real difficulty begins.

NUTS CRACKED TO ORDER.

The Willamette Farmer is a paper we have no use for, and hence we never inquire for it and seldom see it. In fact we never see it except by some such accident as threw the number of December 19th into our hands. Dropping in at a certain place on a little matter of business, it was necessary to wait a minute or two, and so we picked up an unopened paper, which proved to be a back number of the Willamette Farmer. The neglect with which it had been treated, since no one had ever deigned to open it, showed the estimation in which it was held, and was signally suggestive of the cold indifference of an unfeeling world. Turning the paper over we saw an article headed, "Nuts for THE OREGONIAN to Crack," which began thus:

> It is something like six weeks since THE OREGONIAN gave any quotations from the Mark Lane Express, which is the standard authority for condition of English crops and markets. Its last quotations were unpleasant to the wheat ring, because they told of the sad condition of the English market and heavy loss to English crops. Of course at the dictates of the ring the publication ceased. The reader can form his own opinion why it did not publish the following, which we take from the San Francisco Commercial Herald.

Here follows the Mark Lane Express report of the preceding week. Observe that we have quoted from the Willamette Farmer of December 19. Now the very report which it took from the Commercial Herald of San Francisco and printed here on the 19th December, had already appeared in THE DAILY OREGONIAN of December 12 and in THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN of Dec. 13. And each week regularly, for a whole year, without missing in a single instance had THE OREGONIAN given the full report from the Mark Lane Express, as it has given the report every week since. That fraudulent concern, misnamed the Willamette Farmer, is one of those pretended and so called newspapers which are filled with insane envy of the superiority of THE OREGONIAN, and exist only to misrepresent it and snarl at it. These fiat newspapers find it impossible, with all their resources of assurance and impudence to force their way to the favor of the public so long as there is a real newspaper which the public can buy. Hence their pitiful malevolence. It takes a sneaking thing like the miscalled Farmer, which is always in miserable extremity and ready to do anything for Live (if it could only find anybody fool enough to value its services at anything), to insinuate that an independent newspaper which is conducted solely on its own resources as a business enterprise and is prosperous because people like to deal where they get the worth of their money, is influenced in its publication of the news by this or that interest. THE OREGONIAN is the only paper of the northwest that takes any telegraphic reports worth mentioning. It takes and pays for these reports because the people want them. Even were it disposed to do so it could not afford to omit or suppress anything the people want. It publishes daily full commercial news at great cost and everything of any value which papers like the Willamette Farmer contain is cribbed from its columns, including the telegraphic reports of California, eastern and foreign markets. Since the fraudulent Farmer presented in so supercilious a manner "some nuts for THE OREGONIAN to crack," this time it has stopped to crack them, and if it has cracked some dry bones with them, that may serve for a future warning. Let the Farmer go on with its peculiar style of "journalism," reproducing stale matter and furnishing what is no better than a travesty of a poor "patent outside," reprinting the refuse of matter already rehashed for and run through a starveling daily organ which is drawn into sympathy with it through their common adversity and worthlessness;—but for its own peace and welfare it would do well to crack its own nuts hereafter, or let them go without cracking. If any have been so misled by the Farmer as now to be holding their wheat on a falling market in consequence of its advice not to sell because prices would surely be higher, they too may easily see what is got by patronizing a fiat newspaper presided over by opinionative imbecility.

It is well known that the difficulty of acquiring languages constructed on totally different principles from their own, is one of the most formidable obstacles encountered by American and English missionaries. A great part of the time of our missionaries in Turkey, India, China and Japan, is taken up in learning the native languages. The following statement will show how serious a task this often is:

> The Japanese language is a complete hieroglyphic system, and the caligraphy a system of drawing or painting. Every school boy has to learn at least 1000 different characters; in the elementary schools of the government 3000 have to be taught. A man with pretentions to scholarship must be acquainted with about 10,000, and a very learned man with that number multiplied many times. A Japanese must devote at least ten years' persistent and earnest study to the acquisition of his own language if he desires to possess a knowledge of it sufficient for the purposes of an educated man. The mechanical art of handling the brush so as to paint the characters with skill and rapidity, occupies no small part of a learner's time.

It might well enough be suggested that before sending men, women and money to the antipodes for the purpose of Christianizing the heathen there, it would be well to labor first with the heathen here at home, a work which requires familiarity with only one language.

We have published recently two excellent letters written by Mr. J. K. Phillips, late of Pittsburg, in which the necessity of establishing manufacturing industry in Portland was strongly stated. Manufacture of glass was taken as an instance or illustration of what might be done in one of the many lines open to enterprise here. The writer comes from one of the greatest of eastern manufacturing localities, and his suggestions are worthy of the attention of those who would like to see these activities in progress among us.

Statistics show that the gold influx from Europe is steadily subsiding. It attained its height in September, when the amount received was over $27,000,000. In November it fell to $17,000,000, and in December to a still lower figure.

The Field Boom.

At last the cause of the boom for the Herald's candidate for the presidency, Justice Field, has been discovered, and it turns out to be sly old Sammy, after all. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Record tells the whole story, as follows:

Justice Field got the idea some months ago that Bayard was the only man who could save the party, and the more he thought about it the more he became convinced that he was right, and that he ought to try and convert Mr. Tilden to the same view. So he came to New York and repaired to Gramercy Park. Mr. Tilden received him very graciously and listened attentively to his observations. When he had finished, the sage drew close to his ear and whispered: "Mr. Bayard is a very fine man, judge. We are agreed on that; and no doubt he would make a very excellent candidate; but you have forgotten one man, and the only man whom the democratic party ought to take in this emergency." "Who is that?" asked Field. "Why yourself," said sly Samuel. The bait took. The justice started back firmly impressed with the idea that he was himself the coming man. Tilden chuckled quietly with the belief that a Field boom was an impossibility, and that a Bayard advocate of unusual importance had been silenced.

The Real Indian Problem.

Major Powell, the leader of several extensive surveying expeditions in Colorado and other parts of the great west, has the following remarks on the Indian question:

The history of all the Indian tribes with whom this country at different stages of its development has come in contact is practically the same. They have all rebelled at the point where they have been asked to put off the habits and customs of savage life and adopt those of civilization. It is not a question of peace or war policy; it is not a question of lenient or harsh treatment; it is not a question dependent upon dishonest traders, bad whisky, poor rations, shoddy clothes, and Springfield rifles, but a question growing out of the demand made upon these people to change at once from all that makes them savage nomads to a condition of peaceful husbandry. That is all there is in the question; and, simple as the problem is, or may appear to be, it is insoluble. Any attempt, whatever, whether it be by fair or foul means, to change Indians into Caucasians will be a flat failure.

The Maine Infamy.

[From the Chicago Times, Ind.]

The Maine infamy appears all the balder and more wretchedly unjustifiable in the light of the unanimous decision of the supreme court, the ink on which was hardly dry before the outrage was perpetrated. That document was absolutely unanswerable, and it is noticeable that the Garcelon party have not attempted to answer it except with defiance. No course in reason and justice was left to the fusionists except to enroll the names of the really elected members of the legislature, and assign the court's opinion as their authority for doing so. In neglecting to adopt this course, the Garcelon party have lost their only chance of escape. It is a marvel that some of the gentlemen who are staking their political all on the success of the democratic party in the elections this year did not bring influences to bear on Gov. Garcelon and his fellow conspirators which should cause them to adopt this course. We have said it is a marvel, but it is better to withdraw the expression. The democratic party leaders have become so accustomed to blundering that they can do nothing else.

The rest of the 5,702 cases not yet reported are claims in which no evidence whatever on the part of the claimant to sustain the claim was filed by the 10th day of March, 1879. The act of congress of June 15, 1878, provides in regard to all such claims that they "shall be barred forever thereafter, and the commissioners of claims shall report all such claims so barred to congress at its next session thereafter." In compliance with this act of congress the commissioners are preparing a list of all such claims, which they will report to congress at the present session.

[illegible] ANDS,

PEN D'OREILLE DIVISION.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

Is now offering for sale nearly

5,000,000

Acres of its lands in the Pen d'Oreille Division in Eastern Oregon which are comprised in the odd numbered sections for forty miles on each side of the railroad as now located from the mouth of Snake River, in Washington Territory, to Lake Pen d'Oreille, in Idaho. These lands, of unexcelled fertility, and adapted to farming on any scale that may be desired, are offered by the Railroad Company at such prices and terms as cannot fail to induce settlement and cultivation, causing a rapid growth in population of the country, and increase in value to those who now purchase.

The following Resolution of the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company, passed November 19th, 1879, fixes the cash price of land to actual settlers at two dollars and sixty cents per acre, which it is believed is a lower price than has ever been voluntarily placed upon its lands by any land grant company. This is, in fact, cheaper than the settler can purchase the same class of land of the Government under the pre-emption law, for the expense attending the making of final proof, and the journey to the land office which he must necessarily make in order to complete his entry, is more than the ten cents per acre added to the government price by the Railroad Company:

"Resolved, That the Agricultural Lands of the Company west of the Missouri river to Puget Sound shall be offered for sale to actual settlers at Government price of $2 50 per acre, with an addition thereto of ten cents per acre to be paid to the Company to reimburse it for the cost of selecting, surveying and conveying said land.

"This resolution does not apply to coal or iron lands, nor to lands chiefly valuable for timber, nor to lands required for town sites or suitable for manufacturing sites, nor in regions where water is scarce to lands containing springs or other natural supply, where it shall be for the interest of settlers at large that such water privileges shall not be exclusively held or controlled by any individual; nor to the lands required for the use of the Company in connection with the operation of the road."

To persons wishing to purchase on time, the remarkably low price of four dollars per acre is given on the following terms: One fourth cash at time of purchase, the balance in three equal yearly payments at 7 per cent. interest. The above price for time sales is adopted for the present, but may be subject to change in the future.

All persons, who have filed with the Railroad Company notices of intention to purchase or "Settlers' Applications," as they are called, for land in this Division (except for the class of lands reserved by the terms of the resolution above given) and who have continued to reside upon or cultivate the land applied for, are requested to complete their purchase by making cash payment, or time contract, for the same. For this purpose application should be made to the Railroad Land Office at Colfax.

Persons who have not made actual settlement or improvement upon land they may have applied for, have no right to the first privilege of purchase; such lands will be sold to the first applicant. Those persons who have in good faith settled upon and improved the Company's land should lose no time in securing the same, as after a given time the land is subject to sale to any other person.

The land in this division being now offered for sale, no more "Settlers' Applications" will be filed.

REMOVED. THE COMPOUND OXYGEN TREATMENT FOR THE CURE OF ALL CHRONIC DISEASES.

PROF. REES has [illegible] his offices on corner of Yamhill and First Sts.—No. 174, Room 2.

COMPOUND OXYGEN DOES NOT CURE BY THE SUBSTITUTION OF ONE DISEASE FOR ANother as when drugs are taken, but by an orderly process of revitalization. In the following list will be found the diseases which have proved the most amenable to oxygen treatment: Consumption, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia in worst forms can be stopped with the Oxygen. Any fever can be stopped in 24 hours. Catarrh in the worst stages of the disease, Dyspepsia in every form, may be radically cured, also Neuralgia, Nervous Headache, Scrofula, Paralysis and all Nervous Diseases.

PORTLAND, Or., Jan 11, 1880—This is to certify that I have tried all kinds of Patent Medicines, which have failed as a cure in my case (I having a bad cold, which had settled on my lungs), when I was induced to try Prof. Rees Compound Oxygen Treatment, which had the desired effect in two days, and in five days' treatment was completely restored to my sound health. JOHN ROBERTSON.

PORTLAND, Or., Jan 13, 1880—Having taken treatment from Prof Rees for a severe cold in the head, so bad that I could not breath through my nostrils and so severe on the lungs that I could not speak, when I was forced by friends to try the Compound Oxygen, with very little faith, but the first inhalation made me breath freely, and I am convinced that it is the best and quickest method known for to cure disease, and I cheerfully recommend it to all who are suffering from a Cold or Catarrh in the head. C. A. FRANCIS.

The only Genuine Compound Oxygen from here to New York City. Beware of imitations.

HOME TREATMENT.—Can be safely sent any distance in a small and compact package. Price for treatment $15 00. Supply, with with inhaling apparatus and full and explicit directions. j20

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 24 1880.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Jan 24.—12:30 A. M.—South Pacific, partly cloudy or clear; in north Pacific light rains.

CITY.

YESTERDAY MORNING'S FIRE.—At 4:45 yesterday morning an alarm of fire was sounded from box No. 12, which brought out the fire department on short notice. It was soon ascertained that the wooden building standing at the corner of Taylor and First streets and belonging to Mr. William Connell was on fire. Notwithstanding the flames had acquired considerable headway, they were subdued after a short but spirited fight. It was thought that the fire was all out and the order was given for the engines to take up. After the companies had retired to their respective houses another alarm was sounded about 5 o'clock, which again called out the department. A small portion of the roof, which had caught fire, escaped observation and soon began to spread rapidly. It was timely discovered and the second alarm turned in. Again the building was drenched and the flames extinguished. The building at the corner was occupied by Mr. A. Burchard, the furniture dealer, while the one adjoining was occupied by Mr. Wm. Gallick, the commission and provision merchant. Mr. Burchard was insured in the Home Mutual, State Investment, and Hamburg & Bremen for $5000. He places his loss, principally by water, at $2500. Mr. Gallick was covered by policies of $5000 in the Hamburg & Bremen, and $2000 in the State Investment. He estimates his loss at $2000. The house is damaged to the extent of $1000, and is insured in the Helvetia and North German companies for $3000. The total loss is figured at $6500. One of the halls on the second floor was used as an armory by the Washington Guard. The company lost all its uniforms, about fifty in number, furniture, piano, etc., and estimate its loss at $1000. The muskets were saved with much difficulty. Many of them were blackened by the smoke before they could be removed from the armory. The fire reached the cartridge boxes, and cartridges exploded like pistol shots. The fire originated in the rear of the building and is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

MONUMENTAL BULLION.—Another shipment of bullion was received at the office of the company yesterday. The mill is now running regularly with good results. A larger shipment will be made at the end of the month. Vigorous work is still being done on the mine as shown by the last office letter of C. S. Miller, superintendent. Referring to the bullion received yesterday, he writes: "These bars are only from the strainings, we will clean up at the end of the month and our remittance then will make a good showing for the month. I am expecting each day to cut another ledge in the face of the tunnel. The winze on ledge No. 13 is now down 90 feet, ledge improving in size, will start drift south from present level. The stopes all looking well. Have started drifts south on No. 8 and Doyle under contract 200 feet each." The silver bars are on exhibition at the office of the company, and all interested in the development of the mineral resources of our state, are invited to see them.

THE ALEX. DUNCAN.—Mr. F. M. Bartholow, the general agent here for the steamer Alex. Duncan, informs us that he received a dispatch Thursday from San Francisco which stated that the steamer had sailed for Portland with a full freight. On the way up, the Alex. Duncan will stop at several points, so she is not expected to arrive here until about Feb. 1st. While lying at San Francisco the steamer was thoroughly overhauled and refitted. Her passenger accommodations have been increased, so that 35 cabin passengers can be provided for. A new boiler has been added, and also machinery, so that her power and speed has been augmented.

A NEW ACHIEVEMENT FOR OREGON.—Mr. Frank Payne of East Portland, finished this week the first car wheel ever made on the northwest coast. He has been at work more than a month with experiments in chilling iron and has been rewarded with complete success. To test the wheel it was broken into three pieces, and was found to have a uniform chilled edge five-eighths of an inch deep and hard enough to resist the hardest cold chisels and hammers. The tread is perfect, and the wheel will compare favorably with any of eastern manufacture. It was cast from iron from the Oswego works and is entirely an Oregon production.

WALLA WALLA RAILROAD.—The following is the new organization of the Walla Walla and Columbia river railroad company:—President, J. N. Dolph; vice president and general superintendent, H. W. Fairweather; secretary, Dr. H. M. Chase; treasurer, E. F. Baker. Mr. Fairweather will have charge of the operation of the road, and his known efficiency is assurance that it will be operated well.

REORGANIZED.—Sparkling lodge, No. 303, I. O. G. T., was reorganized at Ames chapel, Washington county, Jan. 18, 1880, by E. W. Ryan, D. G. W. C. T., and the following officers installed: B. K. Denny, W. C. T.; H. Russell, W. V. T.; S. A. McKay, secretary; Chas. Tiggard, F. S.; Jos. Hingley, T.; T. A. Walker, chaplain; J. Peterson, G.; Charles Peterson, S.; J. Hingley, L. D. Regular meetings Saturday evening of each week.

CHANGE OF BASE.—Next Monday, Mr. R. P. Sibley, who has been connected with the signal office in this city for several years, will leave here for Umatilla, where he will take charge of the signal station there. Mr. James Perkins, who has been in charge of the signal office at Umatilla for some time, on being relieved by Mr. Sibley, will come to Portland and become Mr. Jerman's assistant.

TO STANDARD GAUGE.—Workmen began yesterday changing the rolling stock on the Dalles and Celilo railroad from the five feet gauge to the standard gauge—four feet eight and one-half inches. This is preparatory to changing the gauge of the road to conform to the new requirements.

OPEN TEMPERANCE MEETING.—At the open temperance meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Hall to-night, Judge Caples will be present and preside, which always insures success. An address by Rev. Dr. Elliott and a fine musical entertainment by Dr. Bird, upon the tumblers, will be some of the features.

THE FIRST THROUGH TRAIN.—Barring unlooked for delays, the first train on the west side road from Corvallis will leave there next Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock. A delay in constructing the turn-table at Corvallis will prevent a through train from being put on Monday as expected.

ASKING FOR INFORMATION.—Mr. P. W. Gillette, who is acting as secretary of the Oregon state board of immigration, informs us that he has recently received a great number of letters from various parts of the eastern states asking for information concerning this state.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Alaska Gold and Silver Mining company will be held at Turn halle, Saturday, January 31st, at 7 o'clock P. M., for the election of directors and consideration of other business.

GROUND LEASES FOR WAREHOUSES.—The Western Oregon Railroad Co. has leased ground on the line of the road between Independence and Corvallis for several wheat warehouses which will be built during the coming spring and summer.

LETTER LIST.—The following letters remain uncalled for at Wells, Fargo & Co's: Belle & Willis, Pool Brignoni, Mrs. Sarah F. Johnson, Tillie Newcomb, Thomas Robertson, N. W. Scott, Mrs. Carrie Thomas, Mrs. Nellie Upton.

A STEINWAY.—The piano used at the Handel and Haydn concert last night, was a Steinway Parlor Grand, one of the finest ever brought to the city, and was furnished by A. Bartsch.

WHEAT ON THE O. & C. R. R.—There is stored in the East Portland and in other warehouses along the line of the O. & C. railroad, sixteen thousand tons of wheat.

THE SUNDAY MERCURY.—The first number of the Sunday Mercury will be issued to-morrow. The publishers promise to make it spicy and bold.

FASHION NOTES.

Brown is one of the most fashionable colors of the season. Many of the handsomest suits are done brown.

Cut-a-way coats are still worn by some women who delight to be masculine not only in dress, but in manners.

Boston dressmakers are hard at work upon costumes of "culture", to be worn at the next fair in aid of the Old South.

Feathers shown on the bonnets at the opera convince us that there are chapters of natural history still to be written.

Velvet and satin jewelry is all the rage. The velvet necklaces and lockets are among the prettiest novelties of the season.

Floral necklaces are new, or were about the time of the Queen of the May excitement. They cannot be earnestly recommended.

Turban hats are much worn by young ladies, but to very few are they really becoming. It is, to say the least, a rather pronounced style.

Satin skirts are common because "everybody" wears them in the street, whereas in old times satin was reserved for full dress occasions.

In ball costumes the semi-indecent styles of last season are to be maintained, and ladies will resemble Iceland in having so many white bare places.

The most elegant of the fur-lined circulars are those with hood lined also with fur and having long ends of black gros grain ribbon hanging down the back.

Black satin muffs are among the elegant novelties of the season. They are lined with either sealskin or fur, and have long streamers of black satin ribbon at the sides.

PERSONAL.

Capt. J. C. Ainsworth and wife are passengers on the outgoing steamer.

Dr. D. S. Baker of Walla Walla, left on the Oregon for a visit to California to improve his health.

Mr. R. Koehler, vice president of the O. & C. R. R., left on the outgoing steamer, and will proceed to his home in Germany. He will probably bring a life partner with him on his return.

Messrs. John Cran, Emil Frank, L. Thanhauser, G. Shindler and P. Wasserman, well known merchants of this city, leave for San Francisco this morning to look after spring purchases. Mr. Cran will also visit New York before his return.

Mr. H. W. Fairweather, manager of the Walla Walla and Columbia River railroad, and Mr. H. P. McCartney, chief engineer of the Northern Pacific railroad, arrived from east of the Cascades last night and will remain in the city until Tuesday.

Mr. Frank G. Williams, a young gentleman who has been connected with the well known house of Corbett, Failing & Co., for the past three years, will take his departure on the outgoing steamer. Mr. Williams will be absent until about the first of May.

ALASKA.

Its Mines and Other Resources, Described in a Lecture at Handel and Haydn Hall, by Prof. John Muir.

Notwithstanding bad weather, the announcement of a lecture on the mines and resources of Alaska, by Prof. John Muir, drew a large audience to Handel and Haydn hall last night, among those present several being ladies.

The lecturer started out by showing the important part which glaciers perform in exposing the veins of mineral which are contained in the earth's crust, not by sinking shafts, but in eroding the mountains, wearing them away and laying bare the different strata. Other agencies, as atmospheric influences, drops of rain and streams of water are continually making changes in the conformation of the surface of the earth, but none are so powerful as the immense mantle of ice which moves on and on forever, grinding way the mountains by its great weight, often equal to more than 100 tons to the square foot. The entire west coast of the American continent, from N. lat. 35 to Sitka, shows glacial action in an unmistakable manner. This whole region was once covered with a vast sheet or mantle of ice without any signs of animal or vegetable life. In the onward roll of ages the long winter began to break and the summer succeeding the glacial period to come on. It came slowly but steadily, and the ice fields began to melt and to move, first disappearing from the valleys, then from the sunny sides of the hills and mountains, until now of the sixty-five glaciers in California all are found on the shaded sides of the mountains. These glaciers in their movements wear off the material of the mountains and, grinding it up, the particles are carried down by the water to the bottoms of the canyons, and that not taken to the ocean and lost to man is deposited along the river in placers. The movement of the glaciers is so slow as to be almost imperceptible, some of those in the Sierras going at a rate not exceeding one mile in 500 years.

The speaker's description of the region of country embracing the gold and silver bearing sections of Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Idaho and Montana, was graphic and full of interest, and he clearly showed that the geological and mineralogical formation in British Columbia and Alaska is the same, only the veins were more concealed by vegetable matter owing to the greater moisture prevailing and inducing the growth of vegetation. The mineral belt doubtless extends to Alaska and the mill on Baranoff Island near Sitka is on the same great lead as those in Nevada.

Of the resources of the Territory of Alaska other than gold and silver, he spoke briefly. Copper is found to some extent and may be discovered in paying quantities. Iron is abundant, whole mountains of almost pure iron ore being found in some parts, while along the coast and in all the rivers fish of different varieties abound. The whole country is timbered, and it is destined to become the greatest lumbering region of the world. Fur bearing animals are found in great numbers, and the tax paid by the Alaska Commercial company to the government on the fur seals caught is equivalent to four per cent. per annum on the seven millions paid for the territory. The agricultural resources are not great, though some food roots and vegetables are grown easily; cereals and fruits do not flourish.

In conclusion Prof. Muir thanked the people of Portland for their kind treatment of him, and the audience for attendance and attention, and bade them good-bye.

PORTLAND JEWISH CHURCHES.

The following is clipped from the American Hebrew, a New York publication, of recent date:

Our Sunday School is progressing finely. The course of instruction is systematic, and a grading of classes somewhat similar to the public school methods has been introduced. The teachers are earnest and competent and have formed a union, of which Mr. D. Solis Cohen is president.

The lively interest taken by the community in the welfare of the school is evidenced by the fact that a fair will soon be opened for the purpose of securing a building fund. The house now occupied belongs to the Synagogue, though about two blocks distant from it. It is now proposed to add another story from below, that is, to raise the present structure and put a large hall and four classrooms beneath. More than sufficient means will be realized by the fair, and the balance will be made the nucleus of an endowment fund.

On the eve of Sabbath Chanuka, the 184 pupils, accompanied by their parents, attended a special service in the synagogue. Appropriate addresses were made by the minister and others, after which they were treated to a "spread" in the vestry rooms, and a present given to each child as dismissed.

Rev. D. Mellis, formerly of Prague, spoke in the synagogue by invitation on Sabbath Chanuka, to an overflowing audience. His lecture was in German, and vividly affected his hearers. On Sunday evening, December 14th, the Y. M. H. A. gave its first "informal." This society is rapidly growing, its membership embracing almost the entire Jewish community, and its influence for good is daily becoming more manifest.

Altogether Jewish affairs here have, within the last year, taken a new impetus and are in flourishing condition. S.

NOTICE OF LECTURES.

Large and appreciative audiences attend each night upon Dr. J. Simms, the wise and witty physiognomist, who is now delivering a series of scientific lectures in the Young Men's Christian Association rooms. He is intimately acquainted with the manners and customs of the people of all nations, having traveled far and wide and studied the different races of men as he found them in their native countries. His versatility is equaled only by his zeal, for he is constantly writing and lecturing, and never tires of his investigations into the science of reading the mind and remedying its ills. His remarks on physiognomy are replete with amusement, blended with instruction, and those of our citizens who have heard him declare, with one accord, that they consider the two hours passed in his company to be time wisely employed. The free public examination of subjects by Dr. Simms at the close of each of his lectures is very entertaining, and causes frequent outbursts of surprise and satisfaction. He reads the character of men, women and children at a glance, and if their testimony is to be believed, with unvarying accuracy, describing with astonishing minuteness, their tastes, health and habits, telling them the vocation to which they are best adapted and the kind of companion that they ought to mate with for life.

Forewarned Forearmed.

Physicians and invalids use with confidence The Kaiser Celebrated German Elixir for Consumption and throat and lung diseases. It is rich in the medical properties of tar, wild cherry, etc. Is rendered perfectly harmless to the youngest child. This would have proved an Angel of Mercy in the household of those unhappy parents at Vallejo, Dixon, Beaver, Utah and numerous other places, whose children were slaughtered by quack medicine recommended by its owner to cure croup, possessing no properties calculated to cure it, but instead a deadly drug which has slain its thousands. Be sure you get only German Elixir. The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the fac-simile signature of Dr. Kaiser. Samples at all drug stores. Large size 75 cents.

It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increase in demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

HANDEL & HAYDN CONCERT.

There have been few finer or larger audiences in New Market theater than assembled last night at the sixth concert of the Handel & Haydn society. Every seat in the lower portion of the house was filled, and there were a large number in the gallery. The first part—a miscellaneous selection—would have been commonplace except for the excellent solo "If Doughty Deeds" by Mr. Lownsdale, who never sang in better, clearer voice. He was heartily encored and responded with "One Day," rendered with much feeling. The male choruses, "Artillerists' Oaths" and "Two Roses," unaccompanied, were as acceptable as such choruses usually are. The orchestra in this part was not well balanced, and the brass was too enthusiastic. However it played with precision and force, but there was much room for improvement in "Wine, Women and Song" and "Nabuco."

The second part, the cantata of Belshazzar, was a success in pleasing, artistically rendered solos and choruses. The music throughout is simple, and such as the average auditor can easily understand, and therefore heartily appreciate when well given. Of the soloists the honors of the evening must be accorded to Mrs. J. R. Wyatt and Miss C. Packard. The sweet mezzo-soprano voice of the former was a welcome stranger to the audience, and her "Hear the Call" won a burst of generous applause and an encore. Miss Packard sang the several solos allotted to her with more than usual grace and spirit. The other soloists gave their parts creditably. The choruses—every one of them—were excellent. Every member entered into the work with the proper spirit, and seemed to think the success of the piece depended on his or her individual effort. The result was precision, harmony, fullness—in short, good music. The orchestra of nine pieces, five violins, one 'cello, one bass, one cornet and a piano, was subservient to the vocalists, understood the work and did it well. Mr. Vinton, as accompanist in the first part and a member of the orchestra afterwards, was up to his high standard.

EAST PORTLAND NOTES.

Eight men are busily at work on Dond, Newell & Co.'s new dock, and notwithstanding the steady rain, are progressing rapidly.

McGuire & Beard, of the Vindicator, have just erected a handsome sign, in black and gold, and blue and gold. It is decidedly ornamental.

A substantial railing was put up yesterday around that portion of the J street bridge, which was carried away by the storm, and it is safe now to travel on the bridge.

The leading real estate firm state that inquiry for building lots in East Portland was never so great as during the present month. Most of the inquiries come from mechanics who have arrived during the past year.

The sloop Dallin, which was driven on the river bank by the storm of the 9th, was only slightly injured, a portion of her guards broken being the only damage sustained. The owners were engaged yesterday in repairing her preparatory to putting on a new coat of paint.

W. J. Quinn has moved back to the old stand on Stark street, and will be happy to meet his old customers, and has opened a new stock, just received on the Elder.

That Enemy of Mankind, Consumption, can be cured; but it is far better to prevent the cruel disease from fastening itself on the system, by the timely use of a remedy like Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Results of Advertising.

We understand that Dr. D. D. Young, of Yankee Cough Syrup fame, sold over 200,000 bottles of this wonderful remedy in the U. S. last year. Over a million of sample bottles were given away.—Argus. Our druggists all have it now.—Ed.

Czar of Russia.

We congratulate the Czar of Russia upon a narrow escape from an attempt on his life. In starting for Moscow, his baggage was sent on ahead, he, starting soon after passed it and reached Moscow safely, while the baggage was blown up. A tunnel was found running to a house one hundred and fifty feet from the point where the explosion occurred. It is supposed the author of this hellish plot was suffering from a diseased mind superinduced by severe pain in the back and kidneys. To prevent a repetition of like occurrences, it is said the Czar has sent to Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, Oregon, for a large shipment of the OREGON KIDNEY TEA.

SUICIDE.

A distinguished Scientist once said: "No man with a strong, healthy stomach ever committed suicide, yet many suffer the torments of the damned with dyspepsia, when a single bottle of DR. MINTIE'S ENGLISH DANDELION LIVER AND DYSPEPSIA PILLS will give relief, and, if persisted in, cure the worse case of this distressing trouble. This pill cures torpid liver, biliousness, sallow complexion, foul breath, sick headache, heartburn, pain in side and back, removes pimples from the face, regulates the bowels, is sugar-coated and guaranteed purely vegetable. It acts directly on the coating of the stomach and on the liver; is suited to any climate, wet or dry weather. Beware of imitations; genuine has cut of lion on outside wrapper. Price, 50 cents. Sold by all druggists. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, wholsale agents.

How to Save Money.

Instead of going to a doctor, if you have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, pain in back and loins, smarting, inflammation, calculi, brick-dust deposit, or any trouble of the kidneys or bladder, buy a bottle of DR. MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM, the great Buchu Compound. It is the best prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Abrams & Carroll, Wholesale Druggists, say: "We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy in the market." Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Everybody speaks highly of it." Childs druggist, Portland, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctors gave them up. Sold by all druggists. Price $1 00 a bottle, or six bottles for $5. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, Wholesale Agents.

Sir Astley Cooper's Vital Restorative.

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quack nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful.

Price, $3 a bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Buy a bottle. It will not disappoint you. Hodge, Davis & Co., wholesale agents.

SATURDAY MORNING JAN 24 1880

PROPHECY FULFILLED.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The above subject which is being somewhat warmly discussed at Olympia seems worthy of your extended circulation. The discussion arose as follows The Rev J R. Thompson was delivering a series of his courses intended to show that the Hebrew prophets had supernatural foreknowledge of events and foretold many things such as the destruction of cities that have since come to pass exactly as they said they would Then the Unitarian Advocate published a [illegible] challenge by requesting the minister to take up the Burden of Damascus as recorded in Isaiah xvii—1 Damascus is taken away from being a city and it shall be a ruinous heap. The Rev Mr Thompson replied somewhat sharply in the Puget Sound Courier to the effect that the editor of the Advocate was very much mistaken if he supposed that the prophecy concerning Damascus had not been fulfilled He quoted Smith's Bible dictionary to prove that the city was destroyed by Tiglath Pileser in the time of Ahaz king of Judah

The question has an important bearing upon the value of the prophesies as evidences of supernatural religion Io one plain case of an unfulfilled prophecy must in the nature of things count for more than many apparent fulfilments For it is but natural that kingdoms and nations come to an end and cities decay as time advances and it does not necessarily show supernatural prescience to predict that a city will become a heap of uninhabited ruins But to make such a prediction and have it remain more than two thousand years unverified shows simply human fallibility The Unitarians hold that the Hebrew prophets did not claim supernatural foreknowledge that to foretell the future was no part of their mission and that their writings show no supernatural insight The prophets were preachers of moral retribution and they believed in the principle that righteousness exalts a nation while sin is a reproach to any people ' Their creed was that a wicked people or city could not prosper So they hurled their denunciations and threatenings in every direction, fearlessly foretelling the doom of every wicked king city or people within their knowledge Much of this preaching time has justified, but in particular instances the prophets seem to have gone too far in predicting the time when, and the manner by which, certain wicked cities would be overthrown And they (the Unitarians) further believe, that the extravagant claims made by orthodox preachers and writers on the prophesies, claiming absolute and divine foreknowledge of events, circumstances persons times and places, have done far more harm than good to Christianity.

The Oregon Churchman of last week, also, recognizing the importance of the question concerning Damascus warmly resents the attack made by the Unitarian Advocate and quotes the same passage from the Bible Dictionary that is quoted by the Rev Mr Thompson, to show that Damascus was actually destroyed in the time of King Ahaz But a question arises as to when the prophesy was written, and to the ordinary mind it seems quite plain that it was at least three or four years after the event that is claimed as its fulfillment. For the prophesy is recorded in the 17th chapter of Isaiah, while the 7th chapter contains an account of the beginning of the war that is said to have ended in the destruction of the city. This war resulted from an alliance between Ahaz and Tiglath Pileser and after Damascus was taken Ahaz rewarded his ally by a gift of the vessels of gold from the house of the Lord (See II Kings, xvi) The 14th chapter mentions the death of Ahaz which occurred three years after this "destruction ' But not till we reach the 17th do we find the prophesy that Damascus shall be destroyed '

But, was Damascus taken away from being a city and made a ruinous heap, at this, or at any time? The Bible account of this capture of the city by Tiglath-Pileser, does not mention any destruction. Josephus does not know of it, and says on the contrary, that the Assyrian king brought a colony of his own people to Damascus to replace the captives that he carried away The prophesy, written really a few years after the event ought to be taken as cotemporary evidence against the destruction To the same effect also, Jeremiah, 49th chapter, 24th verse, ' Damascus is waxed feeble and turneth herself to flee " Though feeble, the city was still there. This was about 600 B. C Strabo testifies that the city was in a flourishing condition during the Persian period which begun about this time And so we might trace its history to the present day without ever finding it a "ruinous heap ' Its most complete destruction was when it was burned by Tamerlane, A. D 1401, and a better case of fulfillment of prophesy might here be made out than at any other period But as this was a temporary triumph of Islam over Christianity, it will probably not commend itself as the punishment predicted by Amos and Isaiah, to fall upon Damascus for her transgressions.

The sum of the matter seems to be that too much has been claimed for the Hebrew prophets, and that time has not verified so many of their predictions as zealous interpreters have endeavored to make out. But the cause of Christianity and righteousness at the present day is in no need of any advocacy that strains the facts of history and the words of prophesy in order to make out a case of supernaturalism in the remote past And the church should remember that in our day it often loses men of the best minds by a lack of candor upon questions of this kind

The Bridge of Tay.

Secretary Evarts recently received from Matthew McDougal, United States consul at Dundee, Scotland, an official dispatch, in which the completion of the bridge over the Frith of Tay was announced, and the description of the structure therein given is of peculiar interest just now Consul McDougal says that it is considered the most wonderful piece of engineering in the world The structure was 3450 yards in length, and consisting of 85 spans, varying from 245 to 145 feet each. In addition to these there was one span of 100 feet, with bow-string girders, and three spans with plate girders adjoining the north end of the bridge Wrought iron cross girders were used in fifteen spans exceeding 145 feet and in the 100 bow-string girders. Timbers were used elsewhere One peculiarity in the structure was that in order to secure the necessary height above water, trains ran over the tops of the girders at the ends of the bridge, but in the centre over the large spans. The roadway was over the lower part of the girders The foundations on which the piers stood were formed of iron cylinders, filled with concrete, lined with brick work Fourteen piers were of solid brick and cement. Those in deep water of brick to five feet above high-water mark, finished with stone belting, on which were carried groups of cast-iron columns braced together The other piers were constructed of the most massive iron and masonry The greatest height from the rail to high water mark was 130 feet. The bridge curved at each end The structure was tested by placing thereon six locomotives of 73 tons each of the total weight of 438 tons It stood the test splendidly The bridge was a financial success, paying 5½ per cent on the investment. It supplied a missing link on the eastern coast route between London and Scotland, saving ferrying

Best Paper on the Pacific Coast.

[From the Dayton (W T) Chronicle]

The New Year's edition of THE DAILY OREGONIAN is probably the most interesting paper ever published in the northwest being an immense eight page paper, and containing besides the usual amount of news an account of Portland's growth a complete list of the events of the past year and many other interesting items The people of Oregon and Washington evidently appreciate the best conducted paper of the Pacific coast.—THE OREGONIAN

Mr T Adolphus Trollope follows up the custom of his brother Anthony and goes to his writing regularly every morning, and does not leave it until he has accomplished a stated task Wilkie Collins is said to do the same thing as did Bulwer and Dickens They evidently do not believe in inspiration and they have probably realized that in order to make a mark in the world hard work is absolutely necessary

Wilkie Collins the great producer of detective literature—the literature of countless plots and counterplots—says that he has made $100,000 in 15 years toil with the pen. He spends much of his time now in [illegible] gating lawsuits and in studying chemistry and [illegible]

John [illegible] announces through the Albany [illegible] that he wants to run on the democratic ticket for county clerk

Eli Carter signs the following address to the voters of Linn county which appears in the Albany Democrat of the 2d I [illegible] by patriotic motives but having formed an opinion favorable to myself and with a single eye to an easy job at fair wages for the next two years I most respectfully submit my name for your favorable consideration as a candidate for election to the office of treasurer of Linn county at the next ensuing election subject to nomination by the democratic county convention

Hillsboro Independent Some intelligent farmers since the storm have been expressing themselves pretty freely on the need of a fence law They say that they are tired of the expense and trouble of keeping up their fences to protect their fields against the few head of stock that run in the lanes They demand that a law shall be made compelling every man to keep up his stock which they hold would be to the advantage of the many and to the disadvantage of a few who live on the border of the settlements and who keep more stock than they can safely winter

Eastern Oregon

J Hoover and G G Livingston propose to build a large two story brick building during the coming season Other brick buildings are in contemplation

Improved farms in Grand Ronde valley can be bought at from $6 per acre upwards according to location and character of improvements First class farms of from 500 to 1000 acres suitable for both stock and grain raising well watered well fenced and timbered can be bought at $2 per acre

Eastern Washington

The storm raged furiously at Spokan Falls Several houses were thrown down and damaged and many miles of fence laid waste

On New York bar the storm of the 9th was very severe The warehouse was unroofed Mr Grant's barn was blown into the river Mr Davies house was blown down and burned the family barely escaping with their lives Everything except what they wore together with $80 in currency and $20 in gold, was consumed.

From Pomeroy, W T The damage done by the wind storm here last week, is as follows The Catholic church, the frame of which was raised, was blown down and some of the timbers badly broken up The meat market was blown from its foundation and one corner left in the cellar It stands at an angle of 40° The tin covering was blown from Frary & Williamson's drug store The front was blown from one of Stevens buildings Mr Killam's barn was blown down, and of one class of buildings but four were left standing

The Dayton Chronicle says of the storm of the 9th inst Saturday morning our citizens could, with composure, approximate their losses The entire front of Torrence's blacksmith shop was demolished The huge addition to Talbott's livery stable was misplaced at the top about 4 feet and was barely saved from going over A few dwellings appeared minus their roofs and not a few "loomed up with no flues Woodsheds, outhouses and fences served as playthings for the gale, and many of our buildings were damaged to no small extent, Joy's hall sustained severe damage, the Baptist church was shaken slightly from its foundation Around Dayton we learn the damage was greater than in the town Several houses blown down and in some instances the structures caught fire and soon became a mass of smouldering ruins The residence of R G Newland two miles below town, lost its roof. We also learn that several barns were destroyed

Western Washington.

A land slide at Milton on Monday morning demolished two cabins filled up a back yard or two with earth and brush, and did damage to Capt Marshall the owner amounting to a few hundred dollars.

Idaho.

The city of Lewiston will give a ball on the night following Washington's birthday, and will appropriate the proceeds toward street improvement.

Lewiston and other points in northern Idaho suffered severely from the storm of the 9th inst It did not commence in that locality till late in the afternoon.

Lieut. Earl while en route from Camp Howard to Lewiston on the 9th inst, lost the road during a severe storm and wandered about Tuesday without food When found he was unconscious and was severely frozen

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit those ills cases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence

MIDDLE AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.
